Volume XIX, 1966

Frank Lamothe — Editor

Catholic High School is conducted by the Brothers of the Sacred Heart, a Religious Congregation of Teaching Brothers active in the field of Catholic education in Baton Rouge since 1891.

Foreword

Seventy-five years is a long time. And it was seventy-five years ago that the Brothers of the Sacred Heart first came to Baton Rouge.

In commemorating this anniversary, this yearbook will honor the 2,791 alumni of Catholic High, especially the first few graduating classes that laid the foundation for our present school.

It is in honoring the men that the Brothers have educated we honor the Brothers since they have dedicated their lives to the formation of youth.

Here and there throughout this book, the reader will find highlights of the past seventy-five years--the old mingled with the new.

Men of the Year...

Homeroom teachers and faculty members nominated and elected C. H. S. students as "Bruin Men of the Year."

Nominations were based on academic achievement, leadership in various school projects, outstanding performance in extra-curricular activities, and a spirit of cooperation and friendliness that should characterize a Catholic High student.

Twenty-five boys were named men of the year by the faculty. They were: Richard Bretz, Edward Burke, Paul Demouy, Pat Geary, Frank Lamothe, Trey LeBlanc, John Maginnis, Gregory Politz, Brigham Ragusa, Edward Samson, Scott Thomas, and Brian Von Gruben - all seniors.

Seven juniors were given the honor: Tim Flynn, Steve Giambrone, Tiger Guillory, Paul LaRose, Milton Ourso, Ronnie Richard, and Dean Roy.

Also honored were: Dan Carroll, Ralph Domas, Ben Thompson, Jeff Wall and Dale Willard.

STEVE POLOZOLA was Room 109 president, football captain, and a hard worker.

GREGORY POLITZ worked on the Bear Facts and led the school in spirit.

TREY LEBLANC was president of Key Club and a member of the Student Council.

Brother Donnan, S.C., principal congratulates Scott Thomas for success in the National Merit Scholarship tests.

BRIGHAM RAGUSA was an excellent student, a 4-sport letterman, and a member of the Key Club. He was in Room 104.

SCOTT THOMAS served as president of the Student Council and achieved high honors in the National Merit Scholarship tests.

JOHN MAGINNIS made a name for himself as editor of the Bear Facts a weekly publication in which he interpreted and commented on happenings around the campus.

BRIAN VON GRUBEN, of Room 104, acted well in Bye Bye Birdie. But his academic achievement was the result of study, not acting.

EDDIE BURKE of senior Room 109 showed outstanding performance in the Confraternity and a school spirit of cooperation and friendliness.

FRANK LAMOTHE, senior of Room 104, was editor of the yearbook, a member of the glee club and of the drama club. He was also a good worker in the Beta Club.

DEAN ROY, a superior debater of junior Room 107, was nominated for the annual NCTE Achievement Awards Program for excellence in English.

GREGORY GUILLORY was vice-president of the Beta Club. This junior of Room 107 quarterbacked for the Bears.

PAUL LAROSE, who was also in Room 107, served as treasurer of the Beta Club. Paul was an active member of the Key Club.

Ronnie Richard, Timothy Flynn, Steve Giambrone, Dan Carroll, and Jeff Wall were named men of the year by the faculty because of their hard work, both in and out of class. The picture below is symbolic of the hard work done through the Key Club during the year.

Ronnie, Tim, and Steve paced the junior class by their academic performance, cooperation, and participation in extracurricula activities.

Members of the Key Club, Milton Ourso and Ralph Domas, show by working together a job can be done with a smile.

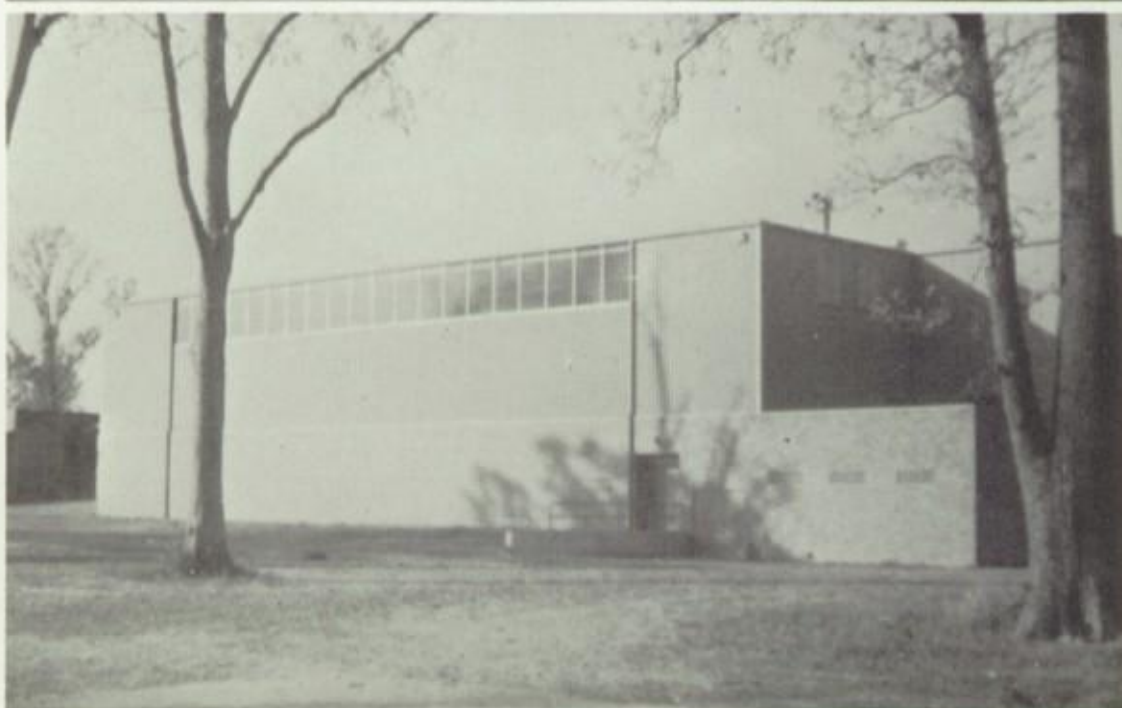

RALPH DOMAS, a class officer of Room 106, led his class by making the honor roll, playing sports, and working on the Student Council.

MILTON OURSO, a junior of Room 107, demonstrated his spirit of co-operation by working in the Key Club and serving Mass whenever invited.

DALE WILLARD, only a freshman, made a name for himself for his hard work and athletic prowess.

BEN THOMPSON, class president of the Biology Room, achieved top academic honors. He also worked with the Key Club.

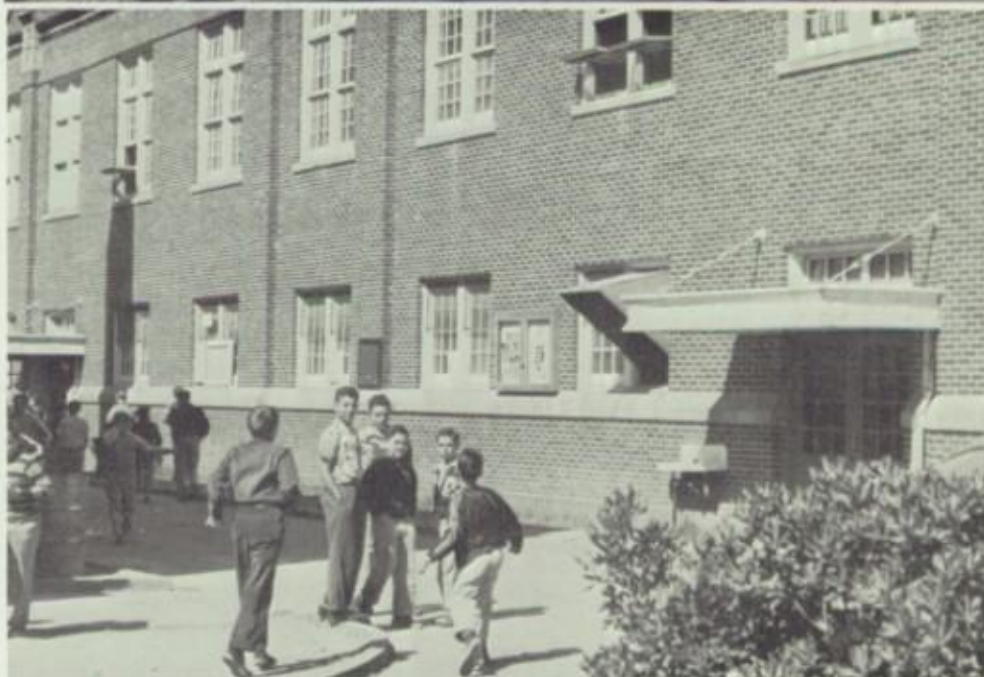

Our Campus

Seventy-five years ago, at the request of Father Cyril Delacroix, pastor of St. Joseph's, and the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, the Brothers of the Sacred Heart first came to Baton Rouge. Brother Felix, along with Brothers Raymond and Urban, founded St. Vincent's Academy and set up residence a few doors away from the school on Church Street.

In 1929 S.V.A. became C.H.S. when the Brothers and boys moved into the old Catholic High on North Street. See pictures on the right. As the third picture shows, C.H.S. was not at this time limited to the high school department.

At the top left is the new Catholic High under construction in early 1957. The beautiful school building, as well as the Brothers' residence, was completed for the school year of 1957-1958.

To meet the ever-growing needs of C.H.S., the best gym in the city, seen in the bottom picture at the left, was built in 1963 to accommodate sport enthusiasts such as those seen at the bottom right.

Lawrence Gatz, Henry Hebert, and Demster Morgan made up the tenth graduating class of the Brothers at St. Vincent's. Brother Macarius was principal at the time. Other faculty members were Brothers David, Justinian, Adelard, Ludovic, Simon, and Thomas.

FACULTY

Making out tests, recording grades, correcting exams - our faculty surely has a hectic life.

Although familiar to us now, such men as Brothers William, Anthony, Bernon, Donald, Jerome, Luke, Neal, and Xavier were totally new to students at the opening of the year.

Also joining the faculty this year were the new lay teachers and secretaries: James Ashmore, James Cangelosi, Nolan Keller, Malcolm Kraus, Mrs. John Ribes, Richard Tonry, Al Tregle, and Sister Dorothy.

This year's faculty is one of the largest ever assembled in recent years.

This year's graduating class of boys brings the total number of alumni of the past 75 years to 2,791.

Seniors of '66 have only their high school memories to bind them together in a spirit of friendship, no matter where they may be.

Memories like the Monday morning bull-sessions, the daily physics tests, American History periods, the cold wind on the night we beat Istrouma, and many more too numerous to mention--all of these memories will never be forgotten.

The picture of Jude Hotard and his date at the senior prom will recall for many the prom, their dates, the dances, and so on.

The informal shot of Richard Bretz, senior of the year, as well as that of faculty member and alumnus, Mr. Cangelosi, will recall leisure moments at CHS.

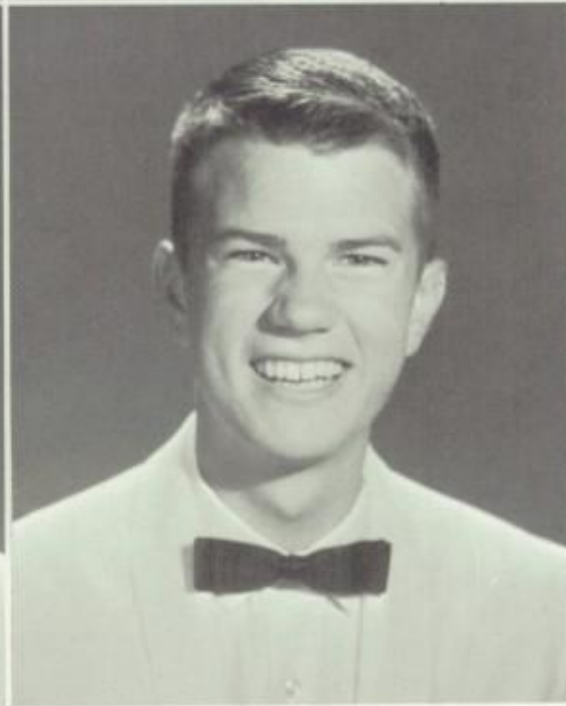

Below, Mike Miller receives his cherished ring from Father Young who said the Mass.

Buffinton Buchell and Edward Wright, each with a diploma in his hand and a large medal pinned to his chest, pose proudly for a professional photographer, for the picture is an important one. It is the graduating class of 1902. These two men were the last two to graduate under Brother Felix, the founder of St. Vincent's.

Ninety Seniors Graduate from '66 Class

Ninety-three seniors joined the rolls of Catholic High's alumni bringing the overall total for the school's 75-year history to 2,988. The ceremonies took place 6:00 P.M., May 26 at St. Anthony's Church.

The seniors this year proved to be the most spirited in recent years.

Scholastically, this year's class rated very well with others. Four seniors graduated with a cumulative average of 3.5 or better and eighteen had over a 3.0 average.

David Simmons led the class with a 3.82 average after one year at Catholic High. Next in order was Greg Naquin with a 3.63 average for four years at Catholic High. As the top senior who attended Catholic High for four years, Greg was valedictorian of the class.

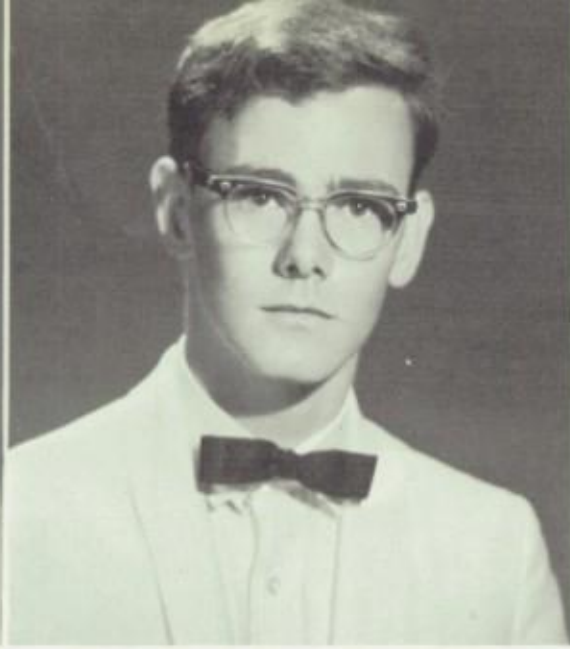

Salutatorian was Kenneth Guillory with a 3.6 average, third in class rank.

The class officers for the senior Physics Room (Room 104) were: Treasurer Steve Constantin, Secretary Pat Geary, President Greg Naquin, and Vice-President Alex Wall.

Senior of the Year

Richard Bretz
Outstanding Graduate of '66

Richard Bretz, outstanding senior of 1966, was president of Beta Club and vice-president of the Key Club. He was a consistent honor roll student and actively participated in all school activities.

Richard was named senior of the year by a vote of the senior teachers.

The class of 1898--Hilary Schroeder, John Heroman, and Brantley Fourier--poses very formally for its graduation picture. Descendants of Mr. Fourier now in school are: David Fourier, senior; Wayne Diel, junior; Andre and Clay Fourier, sophomores; and Michel Fourier, a freshman. Mr. Heroman has two descendants in school: Mike and Don Heroman.

CLASSES

"We've got a biology test in 15 minutes."

"Did you see Batman last night?"

"...and how about that pass he caught!"

"Now what was that lecture about?"

The hallways resound with the voices of our underclassmen.

School starts when the morning bell at 8:25 calls everyone to his room. At about 8:30, the teacher says, "Close all notes and get out a clean sheet of paper for today's quiz."

After about five more such quizzes, the day ends at 2:50 with the end of announcements.

Then off to home or to various activities and sports, the busy students hustle. And the deserted hallways wait in anticipation for tomorrow's sounds.

Alone in the hallway, Don Arbour quietly puts books in locker after a hard day at school; next, BRUIN editor Frank Lamothe points out a yearbook demonstration to Bill Wall; and finally, students show their spirit at a football game.

B. Donald introduces Linda Crifasi, Miss C.H.S., to juniors Wame Waggenpack and Paul Schoeffler, and Sister Dorothy.

Through the excellent curriculum geared for college preparation, students are instructed in the various sciences, in math, English, religion, and physical education classes.

Because of the many and interesting extracurricular activities offered a student here at Catholic High, some few students may tend to forget that their main reason for attending school is education.

Such cases are infrequent, however, because of the opportunity that the parents have of meeting the teachers at least once a month. In the top picture at the right, Brother Adrian, S.C., discusses with Mrs. William Schneider and Mrs. Richard Guidry the progress of their sons in senior English.

Also as part of the open house demonstrations, Dan Hoffman, right, displays a rock collection as part of his Earth Science course.

Brother William, S.C., at the bottom, prepares Mike Vicknair, Kenneth Raymond, and Trey LeBlanc for classes by selling them books on Orientation Day.

ACADEMICS

Edward Burgess graduated top in his class in all fields. In fact, he was the only one to graduate in 1900! Mr. Burgess was the tenth student to graduate from the Brothers' school, then known as St. Vincent's.

Brother Adrian's senior religion class in Room 109, the room that won the Batman display in the mission drive, participate in a discussion of some current moral problem.

Tony Fritton, Robert Turner and Vaughn Reynolds of Brother Xavier's religion class in Room 113 examine before school the scrolls and newspapers that they published on the passion, death, and resurrection of Our Lord.

Religion Is Life

To give the students a Christian education is the main purpose of Catholic High. And since a Christian education includes more than just a number of courses, each student is provided the opportunity to make his religion the core of his life.

Each student is encouraged to make daily visits to the Blessed Sacrament here at school; prayers are said before each class; confessions are heard in the chapel during recess; Mass is offered each Friday, and students may choose to attend.

Through the means above and the class discussions, the students have available many means of advancing in love. And love is the theme of the four-year religion series presently being adopted in classes here, the Christian Brothers' series Living With Christ. As the picture of freshman Room 113 at the bottom shows, each chapter of the text is a separate pamphlet, and is attractively designed.

The study of grammar and literature is the only course besides religion that is required of all CHS students all four years. Why such emphasis on English? Through grammar, students develop good writing principles and learn to express themselves clearly and effectively in assigned themes.

Through the study of literature, we gain knowledge and appreciation of the masterpieces of American and English writers.

Students are often called upon to express themselves in class by oral or written reports often of a critical nature. By this means the teachers strive to instill in the students a critical aptitude and an appreciation of the beauty of the written word as well as the power of a speech well-spoken.

Freshmen Buddy Chehardy, Kerry Jackson, Chuck Scallan, and Bennie Canezaro of Room 113 read a drama for the class in the style of chamber theater. The last quarter was devoted to the study of drama with the emphasis on the popular The Merchant of Venice.

Grammar, Literature Develop Self-Expression, Lead to Clear, Concise, Critical Thinking

The Loyola Writing Series is used all four years here at CHS. This series is a challenging one, and one that progresses from Correct Writing in the freshman year through Adult Writing and Effective Writing and finally to Planned Writing in the senior year.

Brother Lynn, sophomore biology teacher, stresses precision and careful observation in the laboratory.

Interest is high at CHS in science. This year the administration added two new offerings to the already rich slate of science courses. Brother Gordian taught a honors course in Earth and Space Science to freshmen, and Brother Donald presented the new CBA approach in chemistry to some of the junior classes.

The course in Earth and Space Science introduces the freshmen to an area of science which is coming into its own today with the development of the space program.

The CBA approach to chemistry emphasizes the interrelated roles of ideas and facts in chemistry and the importance of scientific thinking instead of the memorization of facts.

Courses already offered are general science, biology, descriptive chemistry, and physics.

Science Studies Expanded

Brother Gordian, senior physics teacher taught three students who commuted daily from St. Joseph's. They were: Barbara McManus, Larrye Heyl, and Cherie LeBlanc.

MAKING HISTORY in a Physics class at Catholic High School here, three St. Joseph Academy seniors are the first girls to be permitted to share the school facilities. Barbara McManus, Larrye Heyl, and Cherie LeBlanc "commute" to the all-male institution each morning and return to SJA immediately following the first period class.

For days on end, students filed past the American history display set up in the school lobby by the senior classes. The theme of the display - famous forts - was one that naturally attracted the interest of most of the students. Many of the forts turned in to Mr. Pat Kennedy, American history teacher, were very exact replicas of the ones that he discusses in his classes.

Social Studies — A Study of Man and His Achievements

Along with our cherished liberty comes certain responsibilities. These duties, voting for example, we must perform in order to protect our freedom. Knowledge of our system of government and our duties to society are gained through a study of civics.

To see the greatness of our democratic form of government, we must compare it to governments of past civilizations and look closely at the causes of their downfalls.

The study of world history gives us the knowledge essential for such comparisons. A study of Communism, for example, reveals the false premises upon which such a society is based.

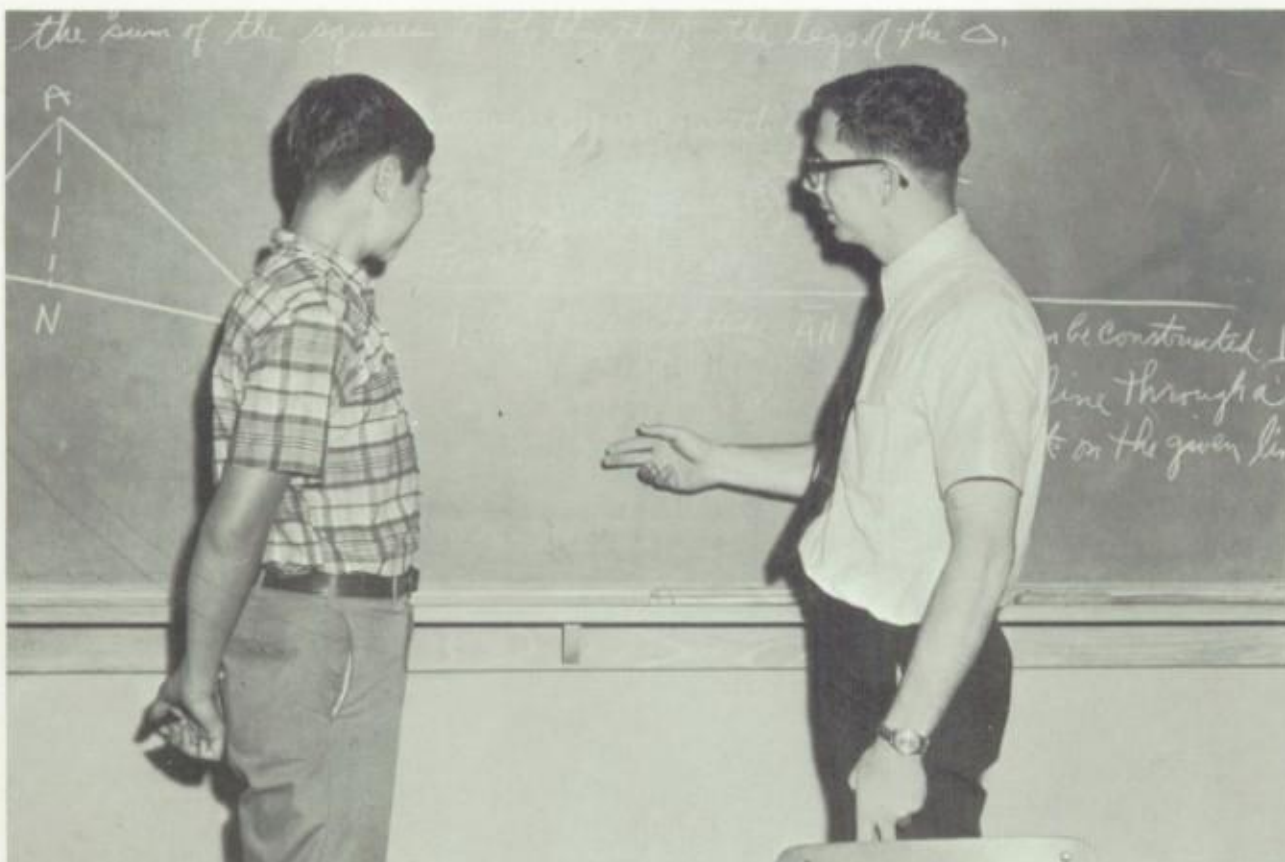

These social studies provide us with a broad cultural background and with a readiness to take our role in society. They help us appreciate our American heritage much better. Our study of the past takes on meaning in the present.

With a look of serenity, characteristic of the last day, Mr. Boudreax collects notebooks.

Mr. Malcolm Kraus leads freshman Room 112 in the study of city government.

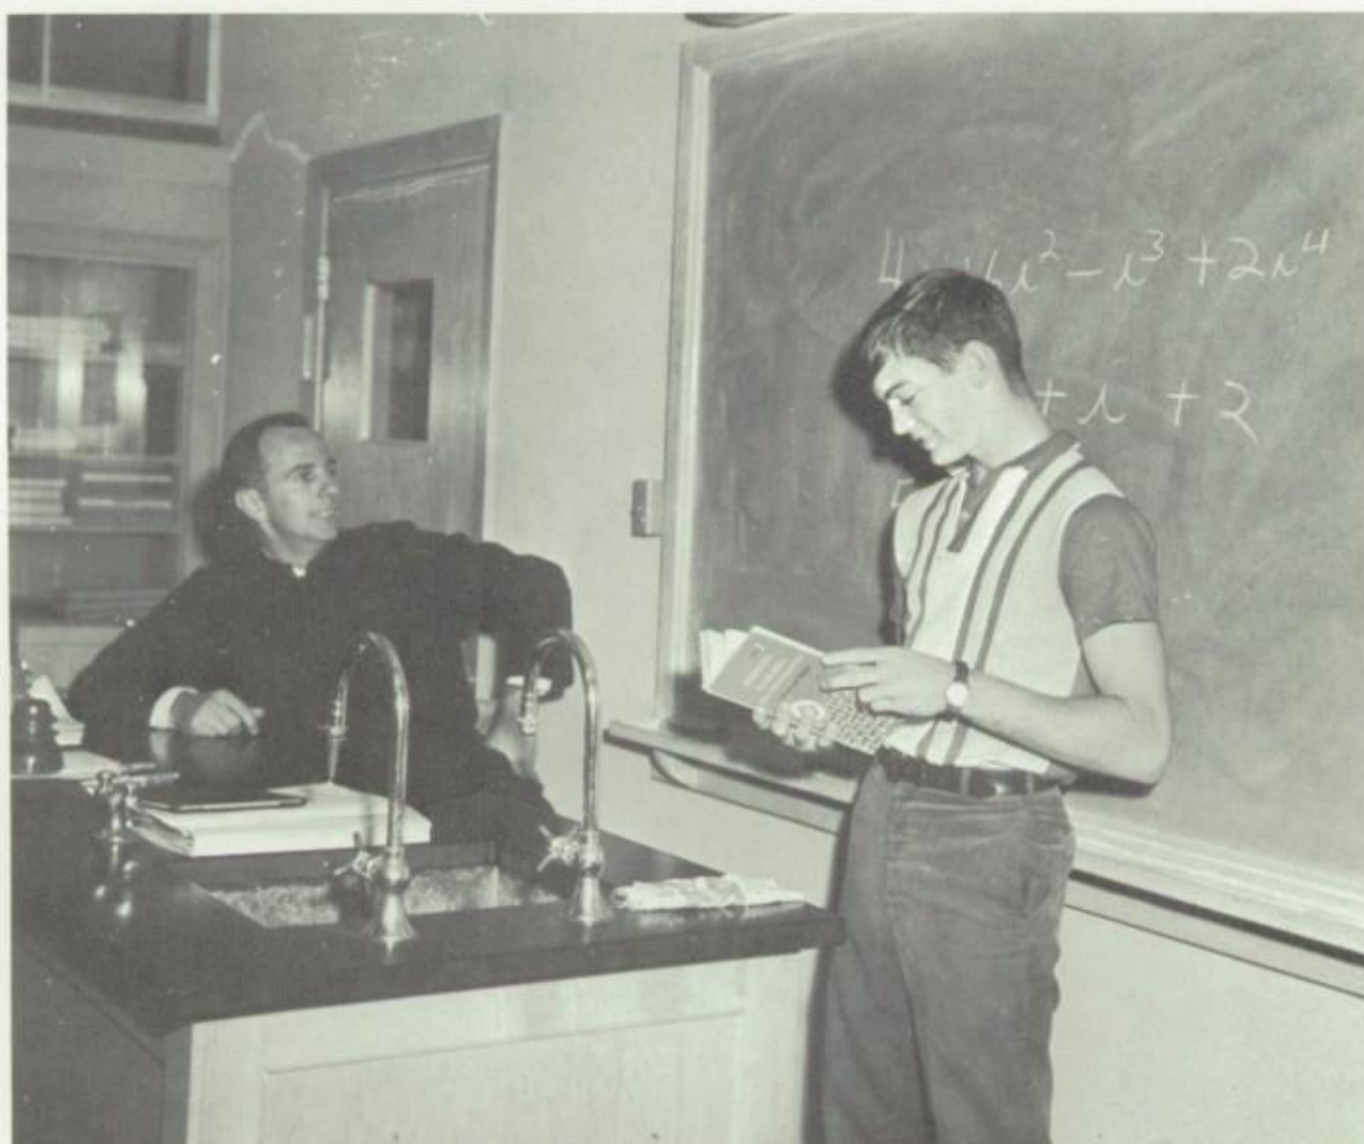

Mr. Cangelosi explains the proof of a geometry problem to Thomas Legleu of Room 106.

Modern Math Adds New Impetus to the Study of an Old Subject

Ronnie Garon of Room 107 explains to Brother Donald, his Algebra II teacher, the steps in working a complex number problem.

Mathematics is an important part of the curriculum at CHS for it stimulates the students to think logically.

All freshmen study Modern Algebra I and then take plane geometry in the sophomore year.

Those students pursuing an academic course then take advanced algebra, solid geometry, trigonometry and calculus in preparation for college.

Each Catholic High student in an academic program must take two years of a foreign language. Sophomores can choose between French and Latin.

Latin I stresses vocabulary, the mechanics of grammar, verb conjugations, and noun declensions.

Latin II gets more interesting with the translation of Livy and Julius Caesar. Here the students get an insight into classical Greece and Rome.

Likewise, in French I vocabulary and grammar are stressed.

Conversational French is worked on intensely in the second year.

Latin teacher Brother Virgil goes over a test with his Latin II class correcting mistakes made on the test.

Brothers Virgil, Bernon, Sister Dorothy Teach Latin I-II, French I-II

With a classical pose, Dean Roy, Latin language representative at the December open house, exhibits his ship. Dean's exhibit was one of the many turned in to Brother Virgil and placed on display.

Business Administration Aims at Preparedness

Good business is the keystone of our capitalistic society. Our national stability depends on the country's business success. Business and its continuous expansion and improvement has led to our high standard of living.

And good business is dependent on our upcoming bright, young men who will enter upon a business career. With this goal of a business vocation in mind, CHS juniors and seniors strive for an understanding of business practices through a study of General Business.

Bookkeeping and typing are also offered because of their immediate and practical value.

Mr. Charest Thibaut, a professional lawyer, teaches Business Law to the juniors in the afternoon so that they might meet the complex conditions of today's life and know the legal meaning of those conditions.

Thus, with a desire to learn and a little effort, students leave CHS prepared for the business world.

Brother Jerome explicates a problem to his seniors in his bookkeeping class.

Push-Ups, Sit-Ups Help Bears Grow Up

Through an ever improving physical education program, Catholic High students are given the opportunity not only to develop intellectually but also physically.

For most boys, physical education is a healthy outlet of excess energy and a welcomed hour of recreation before hitting the books again. The able coaches, however, witness the development of the participants in coordination, strength, and stamina.

The athletic department has initiated a program of seasonal sports such as football, basketball, baseball, field and track, coupled with weight-lifting that promises to put CHS on the top in the near future.

Each student was given the Marine Corps' Recruit Physical Fitness Test.

Coach Nolan Keller looks on while George Kowalczyk does sit-ups with Thomas Dicharry holding down his feet.

Coach Nolan Keller smilingly tells Jimmy Bozeman, "Come on; I know you can do more than that." And Jimmy experiences once again the ups and downs of his physical education course.

Graduating from the old St. Vincent's in 1908 under Brother Fabian as principal were Sebastian Kleinpeter, John J. Reymond, John Wolf, and John Nesser. Notice Mr. Reymond's double-breasted coat, short pants, and high stockings. And with his high topped, lace-up shoes, he was quite in style in 1908.

ORGANIZATIONS

The C.S.M.C. convention, a Beta Club Honors Banquet, a Student Council election, the Key Club Ball, the spirited cheerleaders, the band's spring concert, the Mothers' Club Fair--all bring back memories.

We cannot measure the enjoyment, experience, and instruction we received in the various activities of clubs about the school.

Faculty moderators and interested students produced some of the most talented organizations in recent years here at school.

In these next few pages, we recall a few of the many activities of each organization, in the hope that by reading and reviewing these good works, new participants will be encouraged to follow in the footsteps of those who came to give as well as to receive.

At the top Richard Bretz and Debbie Plaisance prepare backdrop for the annual Key Club Ball.

Wayne Diel and Steve Giambrone fill gas tank to chain saw while working after Hurricane Betsy.

At bottom Eddie Samson and Owen Blanchard work moving furniture at school. And Eddie conducts a Confraternity meeting, emphatically outlining a program of activities.

Mothers' Club Contributes

Mrs. Perry Brown, president of the Mothers' Club, chats with Brother Hubert, provincial of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart.

Under the able leadership of Mrs. Perry Brown, the Mothers' Club completed another successful year packed full with interesting as well as beneficial projects for the school.

Some such activities were the annual fall festival, the club's 36th birthday celebration, the Mardi Gras masquerade dance, and the spring style show.

Every first Wednesday of the month, the mothers came to school to discuss with the teachers their sons progress and to conduct regular meetings of the club.

Officers of the Mothers' Club this year were Mrs. Perry Brown, president; Mrs. Sam Politz, vice-president; Mrs. Jay Broussard, treasurer; Mrs. Allie Langlois, recording secretary; Mrs. Peter Bahlinger, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Dan Uter, financial secretary. Brother Jerome served as moderator.

Participating in the Mothers' Club 36th Birthday Celebration were: Mrs. Maurice Ramirez, Mrs. Ellen Melancon, Mrs. O'Neill Rome, Mrs. John L. Ribes, Mrs. Ida Guerin, and Mrs. Robert Boeker

Over $3,000 to School

Enjoying the masquerade party were Mr. Leo Manly and Mr. J. Orr. Dressed as a Mexican couple, Mr. Orr and his wife won the best costume award for the second consecutive year.

Many enthusiastic supporters tried their luck and skill at the games during the fall festival.

King and Queen of the Mardi Gras Masquerade proudly march in procession. King was Mr. Sam J. Caruso; Mrs. Henry Singer reigned as queen.

Mr. George Kadair, disguised as a sheik, dances with Mrs. Peggy Hannaman (and with wife's permission) at the Mardi Gras masquerade dance.

Mrs. Frank C. Howze chats with Mother's Club Moderator Brother Jerome before a scheduled Wednesday night meeting.

Mrs. O'Neill Rome, Mrs. Mae Nasca, Mrs. Ellen Melancon, Mrs. John L. Ribes, Mrs. Lester Pouchou, Mrs. Fred Watkins, and Mrs. J. Broussard show their smiles and costumes at the club's birthday celebration.

A favorite pastime for young children at the fair was horse-riding. Senior Charles Cole and Vincent Kleinpeter help with the horses.

Much of the entertainment at the monthly Mothers' Club meetings was provided by the mothers themselves.

Many Mothers, such as Mrs. Bahlinger on the right, worked serving food and setting up booths in order to make the fall festival the success that it was.

Mothers' Club Sponsors Many Activities

On Orientation Day the mothers helped sell books to the new classes. Here, Mrs. Ted Kruse sells some book covers to Don Contine of Rm. 102.

Mrs. Sally Verbois, Mrs. Mae Nasca, and Mrs. Day Rome perform in a dance routine at the club's birthday party.

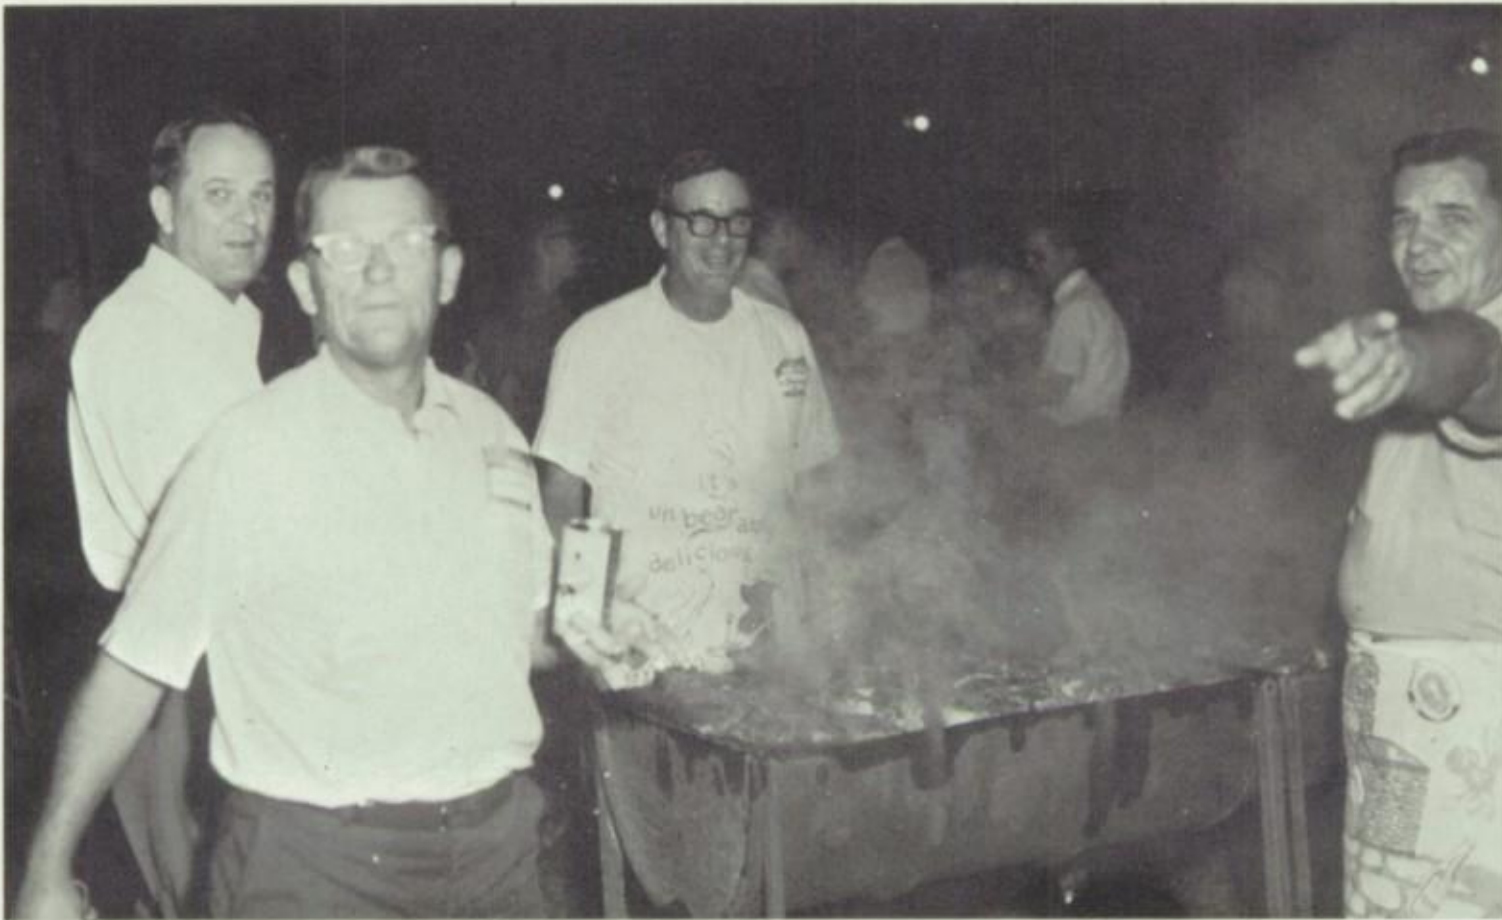

Alumni Barbecue Highlights Men's Club's Year

Hundreds of alumni who attended the annual Men's Club Barbecue in September recalled once again over a plateful of steak or with a beer in hand the old experiences and revived the old friendships.

For some it was a chance to meet with their old teachers--without a desk in between. For others it was an opportunity to make new friends. But for all the barbecue provided a darn good meal.

Messrs. Clovis Hendry, Robert Forester, Verne Dicharry and Fred Griggs pause a moment from their cooking to have this picture taken at the annual barbecue.

Mr. Dominic Guarino reaches for another Falstaff to quench another customer's thirst.

Mr. John Reulet serves barbecued steaks and Mr. Gene Ricca hands out rolls to the endless line of alumni who came to the get-together.

Mr. Ivy Garon and Wade Labat serve Mr. L. F. Donaldson.

Mr. Landry adds another scoop to a hungry customer's plate.

Mr. Dan Guillory, president of the 1965-1966 Men's Club, addresses the members at a monthly meeting.

Mr. Verne Dicharry looks up from his frying chicken to smile for the photographer.

Mr. Harry Demouy looks up for his picture, but Mr. Mike Capone across from him finds the barbecued steak the only important thing to be dealt with at the time.

President Mr. Dan Guillory shows Mr. Jack Doiron the best manner of placing the steaks on the grill to assure the perfect barbecue.

With the help of Brother Donald, a Student Council was innovated this year at CHS. A constitution was drawn up and approved and Scott Thomas was elected to lead the newly formed council.

The first set of officers elected in October were: Scott Thomas, president; Trey LeBlanc, vice-president; Steve Giambrone, secretary; and Ralph Domas, treasurer.

A full week of lively campaigning was carried on by the members of the five tickets which were up for election. Speeches and demonstrations reverberated throughout the hallways which were covered with clever campaign posters and catchy slogans.

A voting machine, supplied through the courtesy of Mr. Douglas Fowler, Custodian of Voting Machines for the state, was used for the elections.

The first Student Council elections featured lively campaigns with flowery and promising speeches, and clever wall displays.

'66 Confraternity Stresses Spiritual, Social Involvement

Social involvement characterizes the Confraternity of the Sacred Heart. Under the supervision of Brother Anthony, S.C., and the leadership of Eddie Samson, president; John Kadair, vice-president; Eddie Burke, secretary; and Richard Ellis, treasurer, the members of the group helped out at the Home for the Aged in various ways. Scotty Bourgeois, for example, along with many others helped the men and women play Bingo.

At the Women's Prison other devoted members served and sang for Sunday Mass.

Drama Club

Under the expert guidance of Mr. Z. J. Hymel, L. S. U. drama major, the Drama Club produced two well received plays this year--Bye Bye Birdie and Our Town.

Brian Von Gruben, C. H. S. senior, and Vicki Flanagan, St. Joseph Academy junior, played the leading roles of Albert Peterson and Rose Alvarez in the musical comedy Bye Bye Birdie.

Senior Fred Greer was cast in the leading role of the Stage Manager in Thornton Wilder's American classic Our Town.

None but those who came for the long and arduous practices that often went far into the night will fully realize the time and effort that went into these two plays. But all who attended will testify to the overwhelming success of both of them.

Conrad Birdie (Robert Forester) sings to his swooning audience, telling the hysterical girls that they must be sincere.

Albert Peterson (Brian Von Gruben) surveys scene of slaughter after Conrad finishes his song, "You Gotta Be Sincere."

Don Arbour as head of the McAfee household lectures his family (Bobby Jolly, Pat Pender, and Celeste Thibodeaux) before "going out to burn Rome."

Girl friend of Kim McAfee (Susan Duffy) sings of going steady over the telephone.

Variety of Activities Keeps Key Clubbers Usefully Busy

Senior Key Club members Clyde LeBlanc, Trey LeBlanc, and Greg Naquin pose with three guest speakers at the Vocation Week activities.

Don Cook and Mike Schexnayder make weeding flower beds look easy, or at least enjoyable, as they smile for the photographer and grab a handful of weeds.

Coming after Hurricane Betsy with his chain saw, Key Raymond worked with an almost equal fury cutting fallen trees into manageable logs.

Robert Forester, the "Snowball King" prepares juice for the Key Club's machine. One of the Key Club's regular projects was preparing and selling snowballs during recess time throughout the summer months.

Tommy Thompson, Biology Room, and Greg Naquin, Room 104, put up posters advertizing The Baton Rouge Trade Show.

Eddie Samson, Scott Thomas, Greg Naquin, and Ken Teepell work weeding the flower beds around the school during Clean-up Week in August.

Key Clubbers

Milton Ourso and Ralph Domas haul a man-size bundle of weeds that they just cut from along the baseball fence. It didn't take many bundles that size to fill the pick-up truck.

Ken Raymond cuts a fallen tree from Hurricane Betsy into logs while Scott Thomas, Wayne Diel, Robby Forester, and Wayne Smith stand by waiting to haul the logs to a pep-rally site behind the school. The logs were used in a bonfire before the football game against Baton Rouge High.

Steve Constantin, Richard Bretz, and Robby Forester worked for several days stuffing envelopes for the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

SPORTS

Throughout its 75-year history Catholic High has always been proud of its fine athletes.

In the following section of our book, we have recorded a few highlights of the past as well as those of the present. We know that our readers are interested in the long pass against Glen Oaks, that last desperate shot that won the Baker game in our gym, the races we won in the Rebel relays, and the fast action of the double play.

But we also know that pictures of the past such as the ones on this page and those scattered throughout this section will also interest our readers. Take for example the picture of Brother Gordian, S.C., at the top right. This picture shows Brother as a football coach over twenty years ago.

Under Brother Gordian is Elton Landry a guard on Coach Ralph Springer's 1941 starting line-up.

At the bottom, is the team that beat the Baton Rouge Bulldogs 12-7 before 6,000 fans at Tiger Stadium in 1940. Pearce Didier, who starred at halfback in the game, was named to the all-city team and made captain of it.

Coach Springer's 1939 varsity squad huddles to plan strategy. Here is an excerpt from the November issue of the 1939 Golden Bear, the school newspaper: "Since commencing football rivalry with Catholic High, the Bulldogs have scored exactly 6 points in each of the four games played to date. The scores of the four games were 0-6, 9-6, 7-6, and 28-6."

It's another first down for the Bears as Most Valuable Player Bobby Richard drags an angry Bulldog downfield.

"Coach of Year Goes to Coach Cangelosi"

Backed with the whole-hearted support of the student body and coached by C.H.S. graduate James Cangelosi, the 1966 Basketball Grizzlies chalked up an outstanding 20-11 victory.

Taking to the court with enthusiasm, the basketballers tied for second place in the 3-AAA District. With no less than 6 overtimes, plus 3 double overtimes, Coach Cangelosi's cagers provided the frantic fans with some nailbiting victories such as the one in which Gabe Kora tossed in the winning field goal against Glen Oaks in the last second of the game.

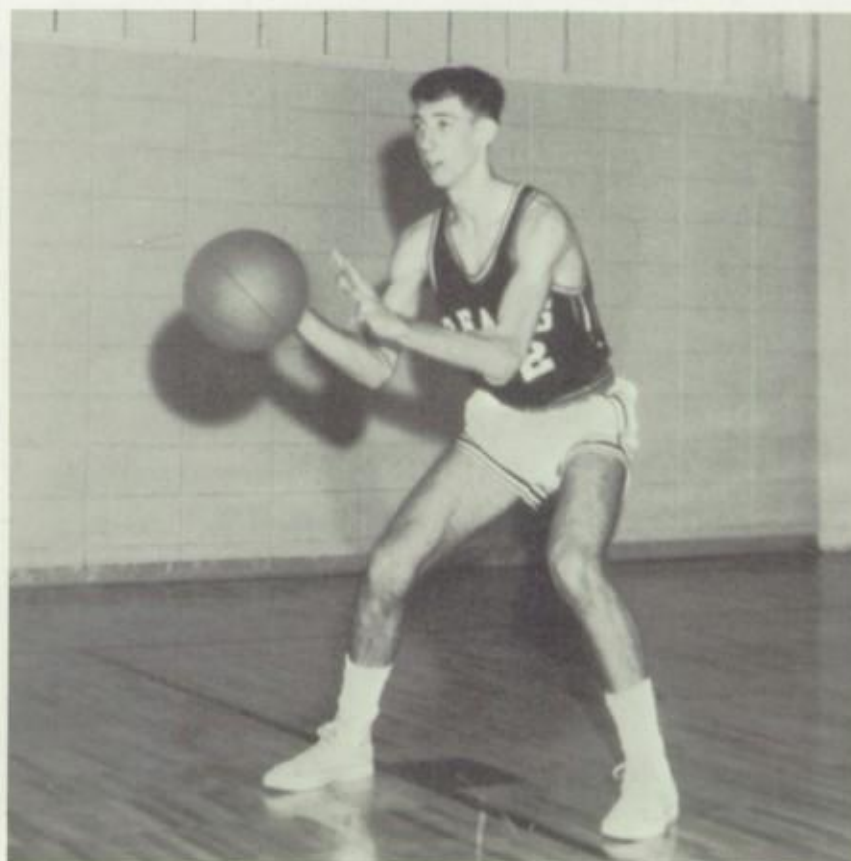

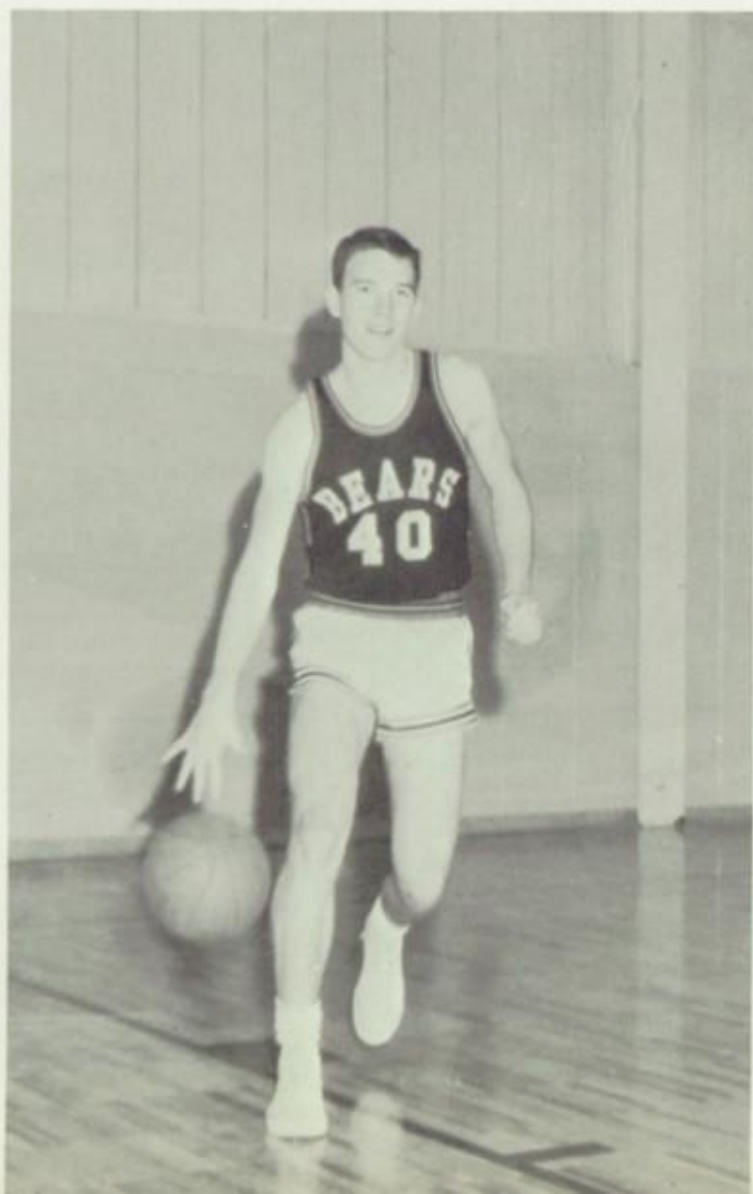

To add a crowning touch to a fine season, Coach Cangelosi was named "Coach of the Year" in the 3-AAA District, and Mike Miller earned a berth on the second team of the All-District basketball squad. Honorable mention on the All-District squad was given to Paul Demouy, Gabe Kora, Kenny Guillory and Jay Knight.

Cross Country

This year the newly organized cross-country team, under the direction of Coach Kraus, participated in the Turkey Day Race in New Orleans. The race, held on Thanksgiving, consisted of a five-mile trek down Canal Street. Every one of the 36 participating CHS students brought home a medal from the meet.

FROM HONEY BEAR TO "GRIZ"....

Students this year found themselves confronted with a challenge from the coaching staff to meet certain physical requirements in order to advance from HONEY BEARS to GRIZZLY BEARS.

A HONEY BEAR spent his time being cute, eating milk and cookies, staying out of the "mean old sun" and being physically unfit.

Obviously, no one wished to remain a HONEY BEAR for very long.

BLACK BEARS were required to jog three miles, and to bench press and squat at least 30 pounds under their weight.

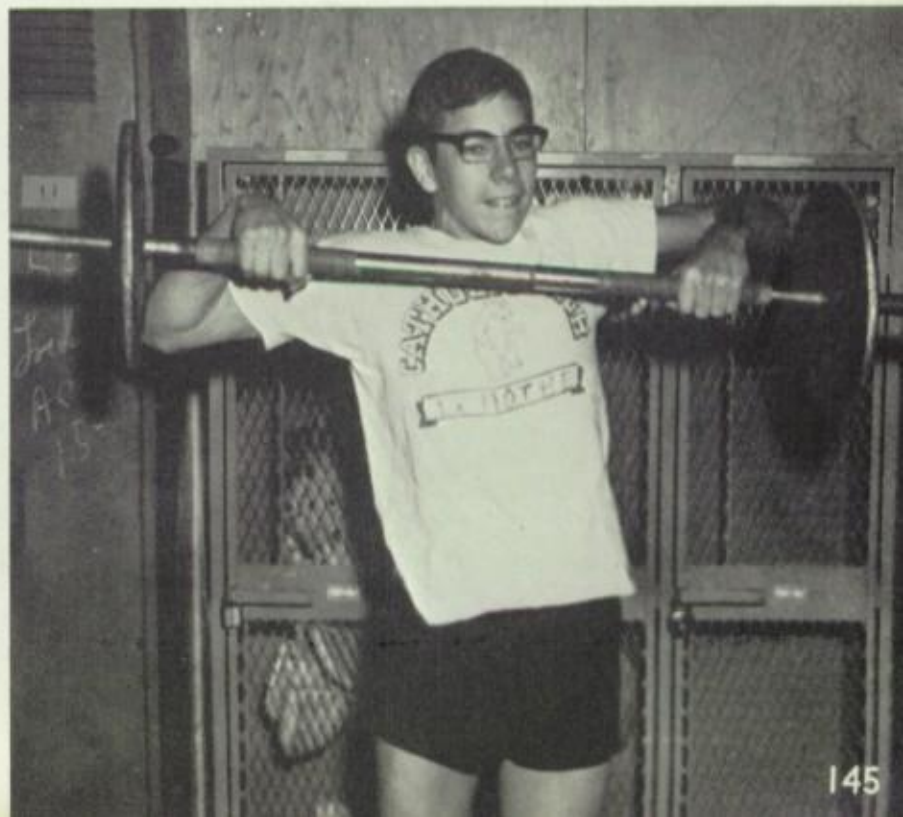

GRIZZLY BEARS had to jog six miles and bench press and squat their own weight or better.

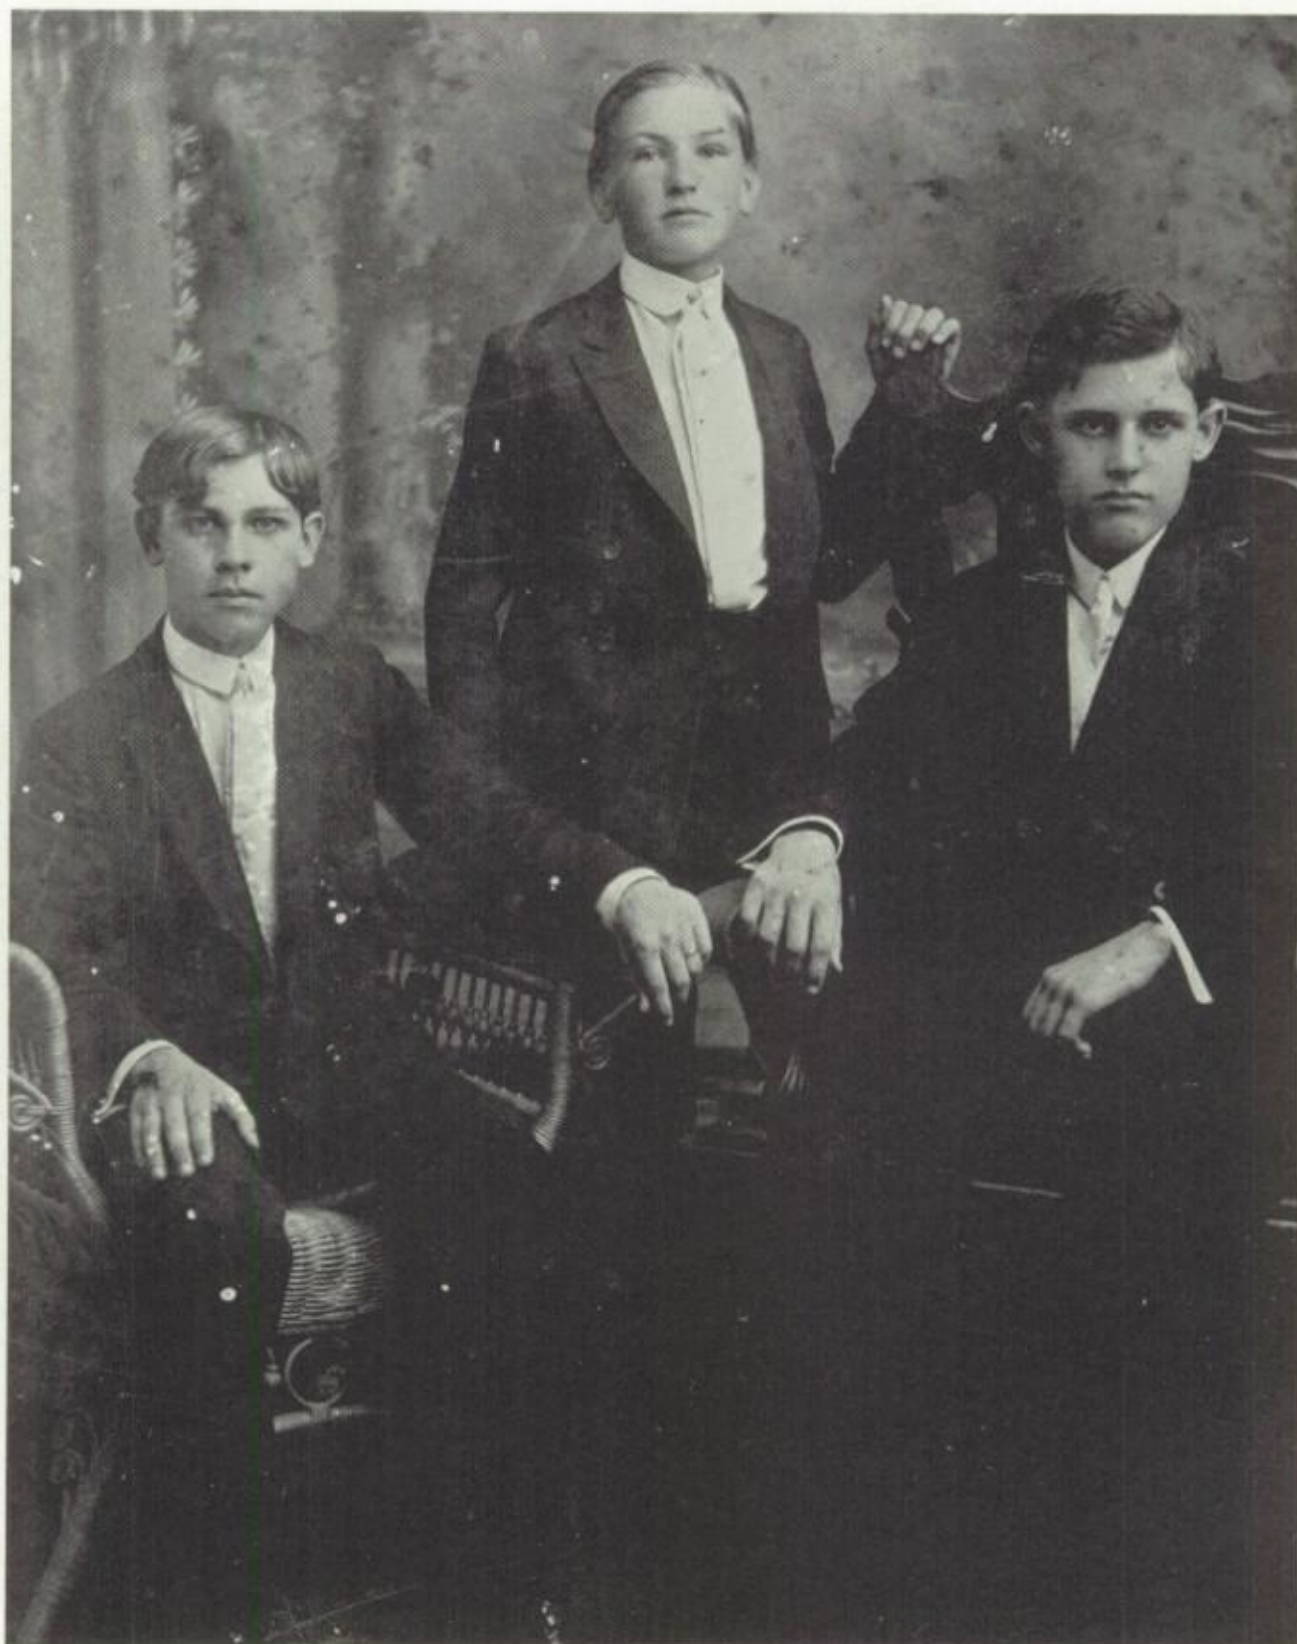

Honey bears do look cute. But who wants to look cute?

Catholic High's own "GRIZ", Blackie, a gift to the student body from Dr. M. C. Helouin, looks tough.

Louis Nesser, Daniel W. Lusk, and Joseph F. Kleinpeter comprised the graduating class of 1905. Of interest is Joseph Kleinpeter, one of twenty-three Kleinpeters who have graduated from C.H.S. Joseph is the great uncle of four students now in school. They are the three Kleinpeter brothers: Ronald and Vincent, juniors; and Jerry, a freshman; and their cousin Durbin Kleinpeter, a sophomore.

FAVORITES

Two queens reigned over Catholic High this year. Miss Linda Crifasi, Miss C.H.S., was winner in the vigorous competition preceding the Mother's Club Festival. She was crowned at the special Coronation Dance on Fair Day.

Miss Lori Froechtenicht reigned as Queen of the Homecoming after being chosen by members of the varsity football team and senior class. She was crowned at the homecoming game and honored later at the C.H.S. Homecoming Dance held at the Parliament House.

The top set of pictures shows our homecoming queen on the field; last year's queen, Darlene Fasullo, being escorted on the field to crown Lori Froechtenicht; and halftime favorites, the Bruinettes, in one of their performances.

Our bottom group shows this year's Miss C.H.S. contestants and Miss Linda Crifasi being crowned the winner of this competition.

Miss Linda Crifasi, junior at St. Anthony High School was crowned Miss Catholic High at the conclusion of the C.H.S. Mother's Club annual fall festival Sunday, October 24, 1965, in the C.H.S. gym. Miss Crifasi is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Crifasi, Baton Rouge.

The crowning took place at the Coronation Dance held in the C.H.S. gym, the final activity of the all-day festival. Miss Crifasi was crowned by Miss Judy Jackson, Miss C.H.S. of 1964. Music was provided by the Greek Fountains.

Miss Crifasi, candidate for Room 102, won first place with 88,168 votes. Votes were sold for a penny apiece. The different classes sponsored numerous projects to raise money for the votes. Runners-up in the contest and the homerooms they represented were the Misses Sharon Ourso, Rm. 108; Cathy Noto, Rm. 113; Ana Landry, Rm. 106; and Kathy Heroman, Rm. 112 in that order.

Graduates of 1940

Lori Froechtenicht, senior at St. Joseph's Academy, was selected the 1965-66 Homecoming Queen for Catholic High School and presided over the Homecoming festivities. The queen is the daughter of Mrs. Constance A. Froechtenicht, 6051 Government St.

Other members of the Court were First Maid Sharon Ourso, Second Maid Loretta Gravois, Third Maid Kathy Ward, and Fourth Maid Suzette Breaud.

The Court was presented at pre-game festivities at the Catholic High-Lee High football game Thursday night, November 11, 1965, at Memorial Stadium. The class of 1940 served as escorts for the queen and her court.

At the Homecoming Dance Friday night, November 12, the court was again honored. The dance was held at the Magnolia Room of the Parliament House Motor Hotel.

Lee Heroman, the only graduate of 1903, worked for the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Co. until 1910. Then he began working for Esso. He retired to his home on Svendsen Drive in 1952.

Mr. Heroman is the great uncle of Mike Heroman, a sophomore, and freshman Don Heroman.

ACTIVITIES

Bells ring, students clamor, bands play, cheers are raised, diplomas are handed out - Catholic High comes alive!

From orientation to graduation, students are aware of the great number of activities which accompany school life.

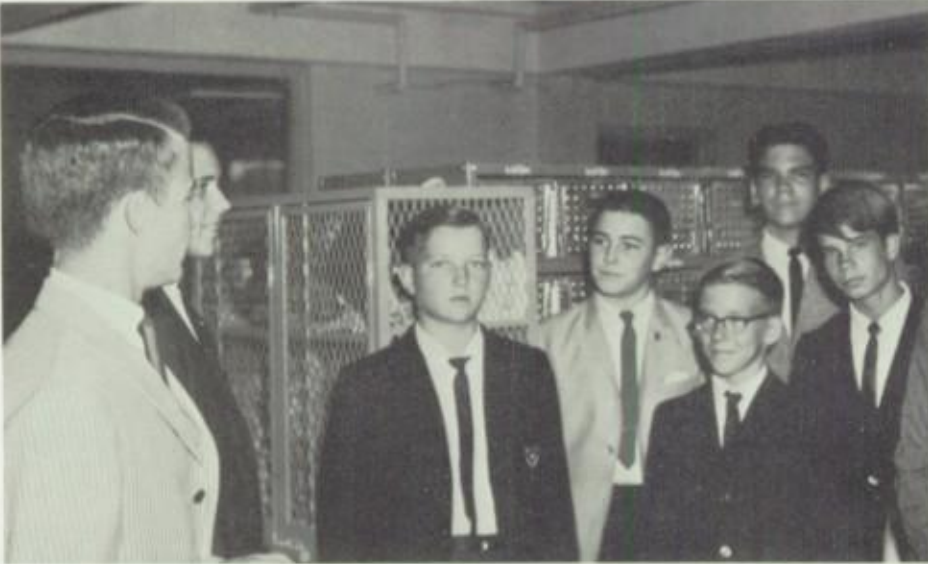

Knowledge is gained, friends are found, and memories are formed.

It is hoped that the activities and memories relived and permanently recorded in this annual be enjoyed by the participants for many years to come.

At top, students listen and jerk to music at school dances. Below, B. Virgil presents head-cheerleader Sandra Bologna an award at the Band-Booster Banquet. Clamoring crowds at the bottom cheer and yell at a pep rally. And the donkeys seem to dominate the donkey-basketball game in which the frosh whipped the sophs, and the juniors trounced the seniors.

Freshmen Start Here

Seniors Richard Bretz and Greg Naquin provide new freshmen with a tour of P.E. facilities. Freshmen scamper to their newly assigned lockers.

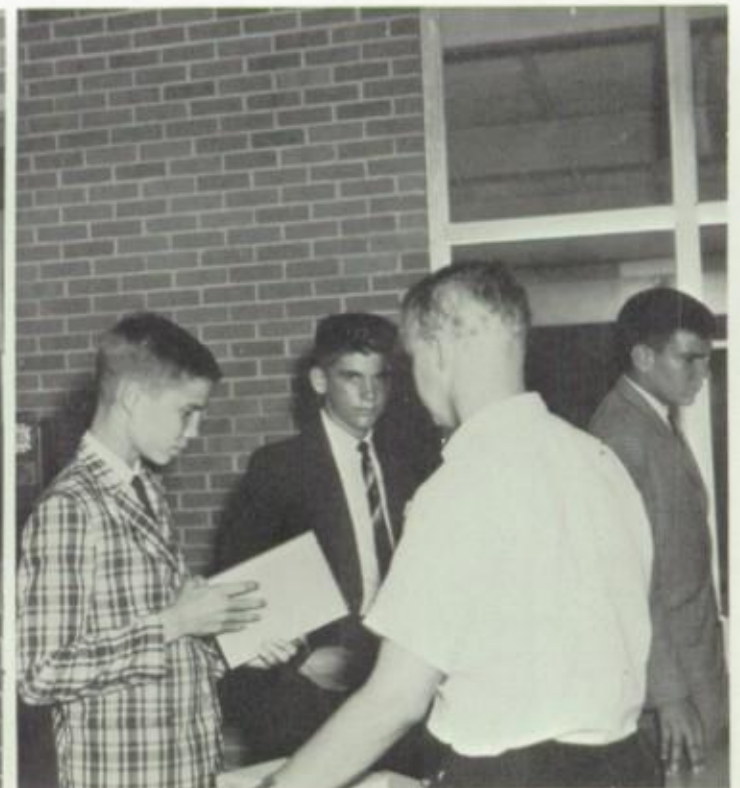

Orientation Day is recalled much more vividly by the freshmen than by upperclassmen. Freshmen were shown around the school by members of the Key Club. Afterwards their homeroom teachers introduced them officially to C.H.S. and gave them an idea of school policies.

Besides receiving a locker for the coming year and enough books to fill it, some students were not satisfied. Yes, they even bought more books and supplies for the coming year.

The Bruin Staff was on hand to distribute yearbooks and a professional photographer took class pictures for next year's Bruin.

Eddie Samson and Trey LeBlanc, Key Club members, conduct freshmen of Rm. 112 on a tour of the school.

Brother Donald, S.C. is dwarfed by one of the many campaign posters which dominated the hallways.

Student Council Holds First Elections

What was once an idea in the mind of B. Donald, S.C. became a reality when Scott Thomas, Trey LeBlanc, Steve Giambrone, and Ralph Domas were elected president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer respectively in the first Student Council elections at C.H.S. after the formation of this organization.

Heading opposing tickets were Richard Bretz, Brigham Ragusa, Steve Ellis, and Roy Fugler.

Thomas defeated Fugler in a second-primary election by a vote of 263 to 159.

Homecoming queen and her court dance the first dance to the tune of "The Sweetheart of Catholic High."

Miss C.H.S. of 1966, Linda Crifasi, presents Homecoming Queen Lori Froechtenicht with a beautiful bouquet of red roses. Eddie Samson waits patiently for the first dance.

Homecoming Dance Held at Parliament House

After the presentation of Queen Lori Froechtenicht and her court in the Magnolia Room of the Parliament House, the Homecoming Dance opened with Brother Donald's rendition of "The Sweetheart of Catholic High."

Plans for the dance were several times made by the Student Council. The original plans had to be altered because of the chlorine barge lift. The dance was finally held November 24 at the Parliament House with music provided by Carol Acey and the Dealers.

This year's annual homecoming dance was well attended, even by underclassmen. Mr. Anthony Bonfanti was on hand to take pictures of the queen and her court.

Queen Lori Froechtenicht was escorted by Eddie Samson of Room 104.

Loretta Gravois; and Suzette Breaud. Escorts were Steve Ellis, Vincent Kleinpeter, Eddie Samson, Tommy London, Steve Polozola, and Gregory Guillory.

Brother Donnan chats with couples in the lobby outside the Grand Ballroom of the Capitol House.

As the band softly plays in the background, the seniors demonstrate their glide-across-the-floor technique.

After a loud fast dance, many couples found it necessary to take a breather and rest their feet.

for Year '65-'66

Coleman Brown and Louise Kyle find time during the hectic dancing to have their picture taken.

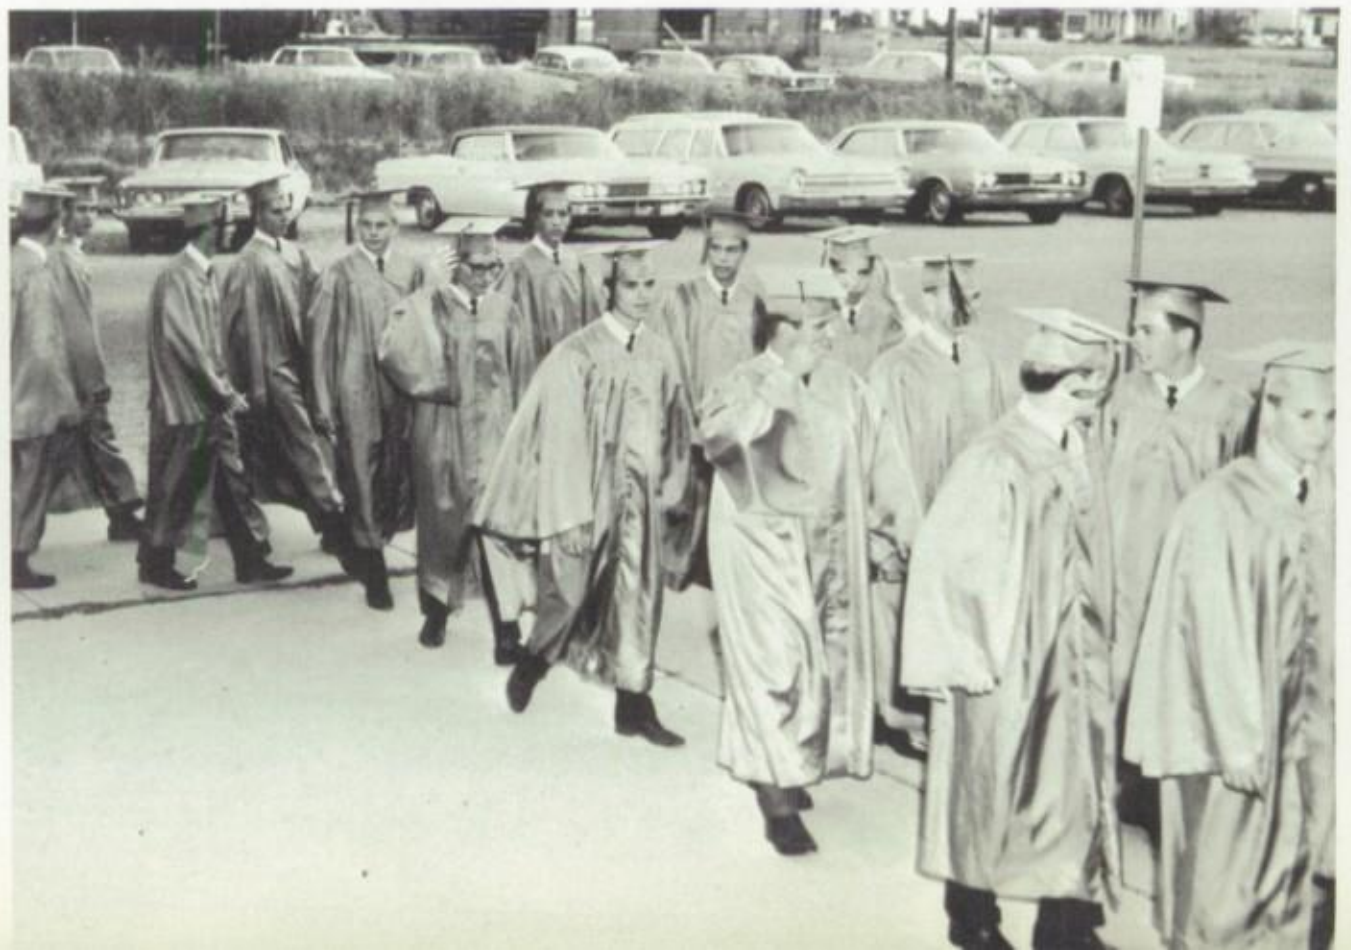

Pat Lamousin and date dance serenely to the last number of the night.

The Capitol House's Grand Ballroom seems to rock as the dancers twist and jerk to the wild music.

Two Assistant Leave For Down River Work

Sports have always been an important part of Catholic High. In honoring our alumni this year, we have decided to print some representative pictures depicting the school's success in this area of endeavor.

With the golden gloves, is Eddie Mansur, the 155 pound state champion in 1935. In a write-up in the 1935 Golden Bear by Clovis Hendry we find that Brother Bernon, who is again on the CHS faculty, placed eight out of ten men on the team that he brought to the district playoffs in Hammond.

In 1921 basketball players wore padded pants as the bottom picture shows. Brother Cornelius's team of eight members (there were only 24 in school at the time) is said to have given LSU fits according to the Golden Bear. Notice the SVA jerseys.

We did beat Istrouma--twice! One year was 1936 and the team is pictured below. Again 27 years later we scalped the Indians.

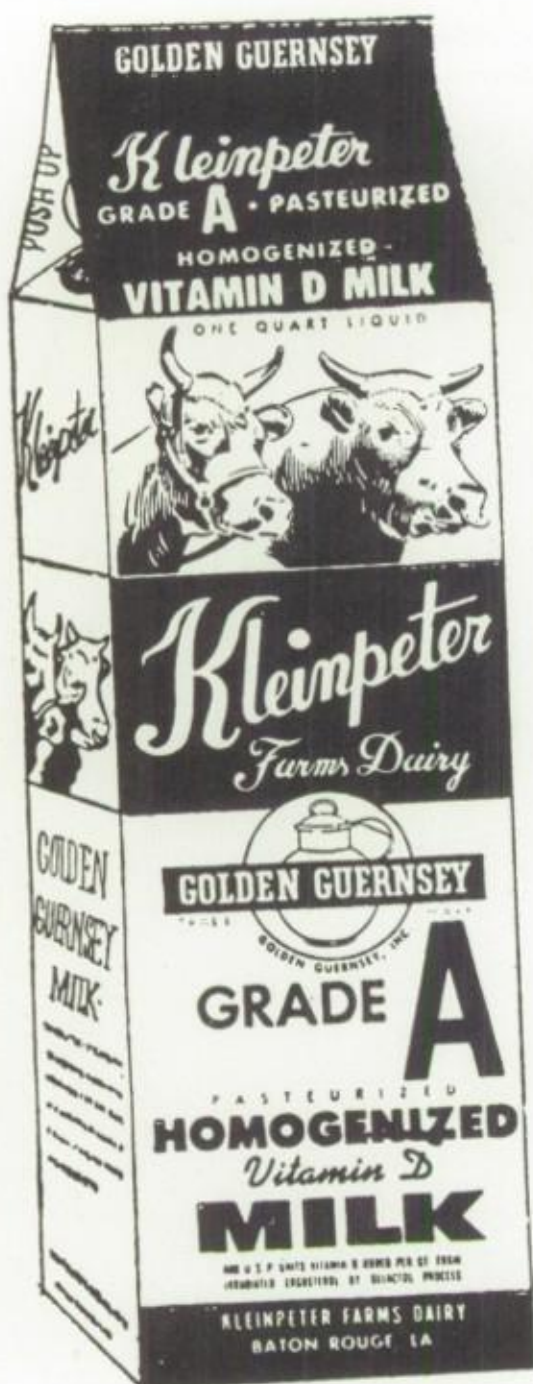

Mr. Roe Frank Cangelosi, graduate of 1922 who has been outstanding as a long friend of the school, a loyal supporter, and generous benefactor was this year awarded a Golden Bear and named to the Catholic High School Hall of Fame.

The announcement was made at the honors banquet. Also named to the Hall of Fame were Brother Peter (posthumously) and Mrs. J. Richard Langlois.

Mrs. Watkins and Mrs. Guidry prepare to send out senior transcripts.

Seniors were introduced to a new form of writing - thank you notes.

Throughout the past year The Bruin staff has felt privileged to prepare the 1966 Bruin for publication. We have only edited it. The authors of The Bruin are the students, faculty, and friends who make Catholic High the excellent school it is.

Epilogue

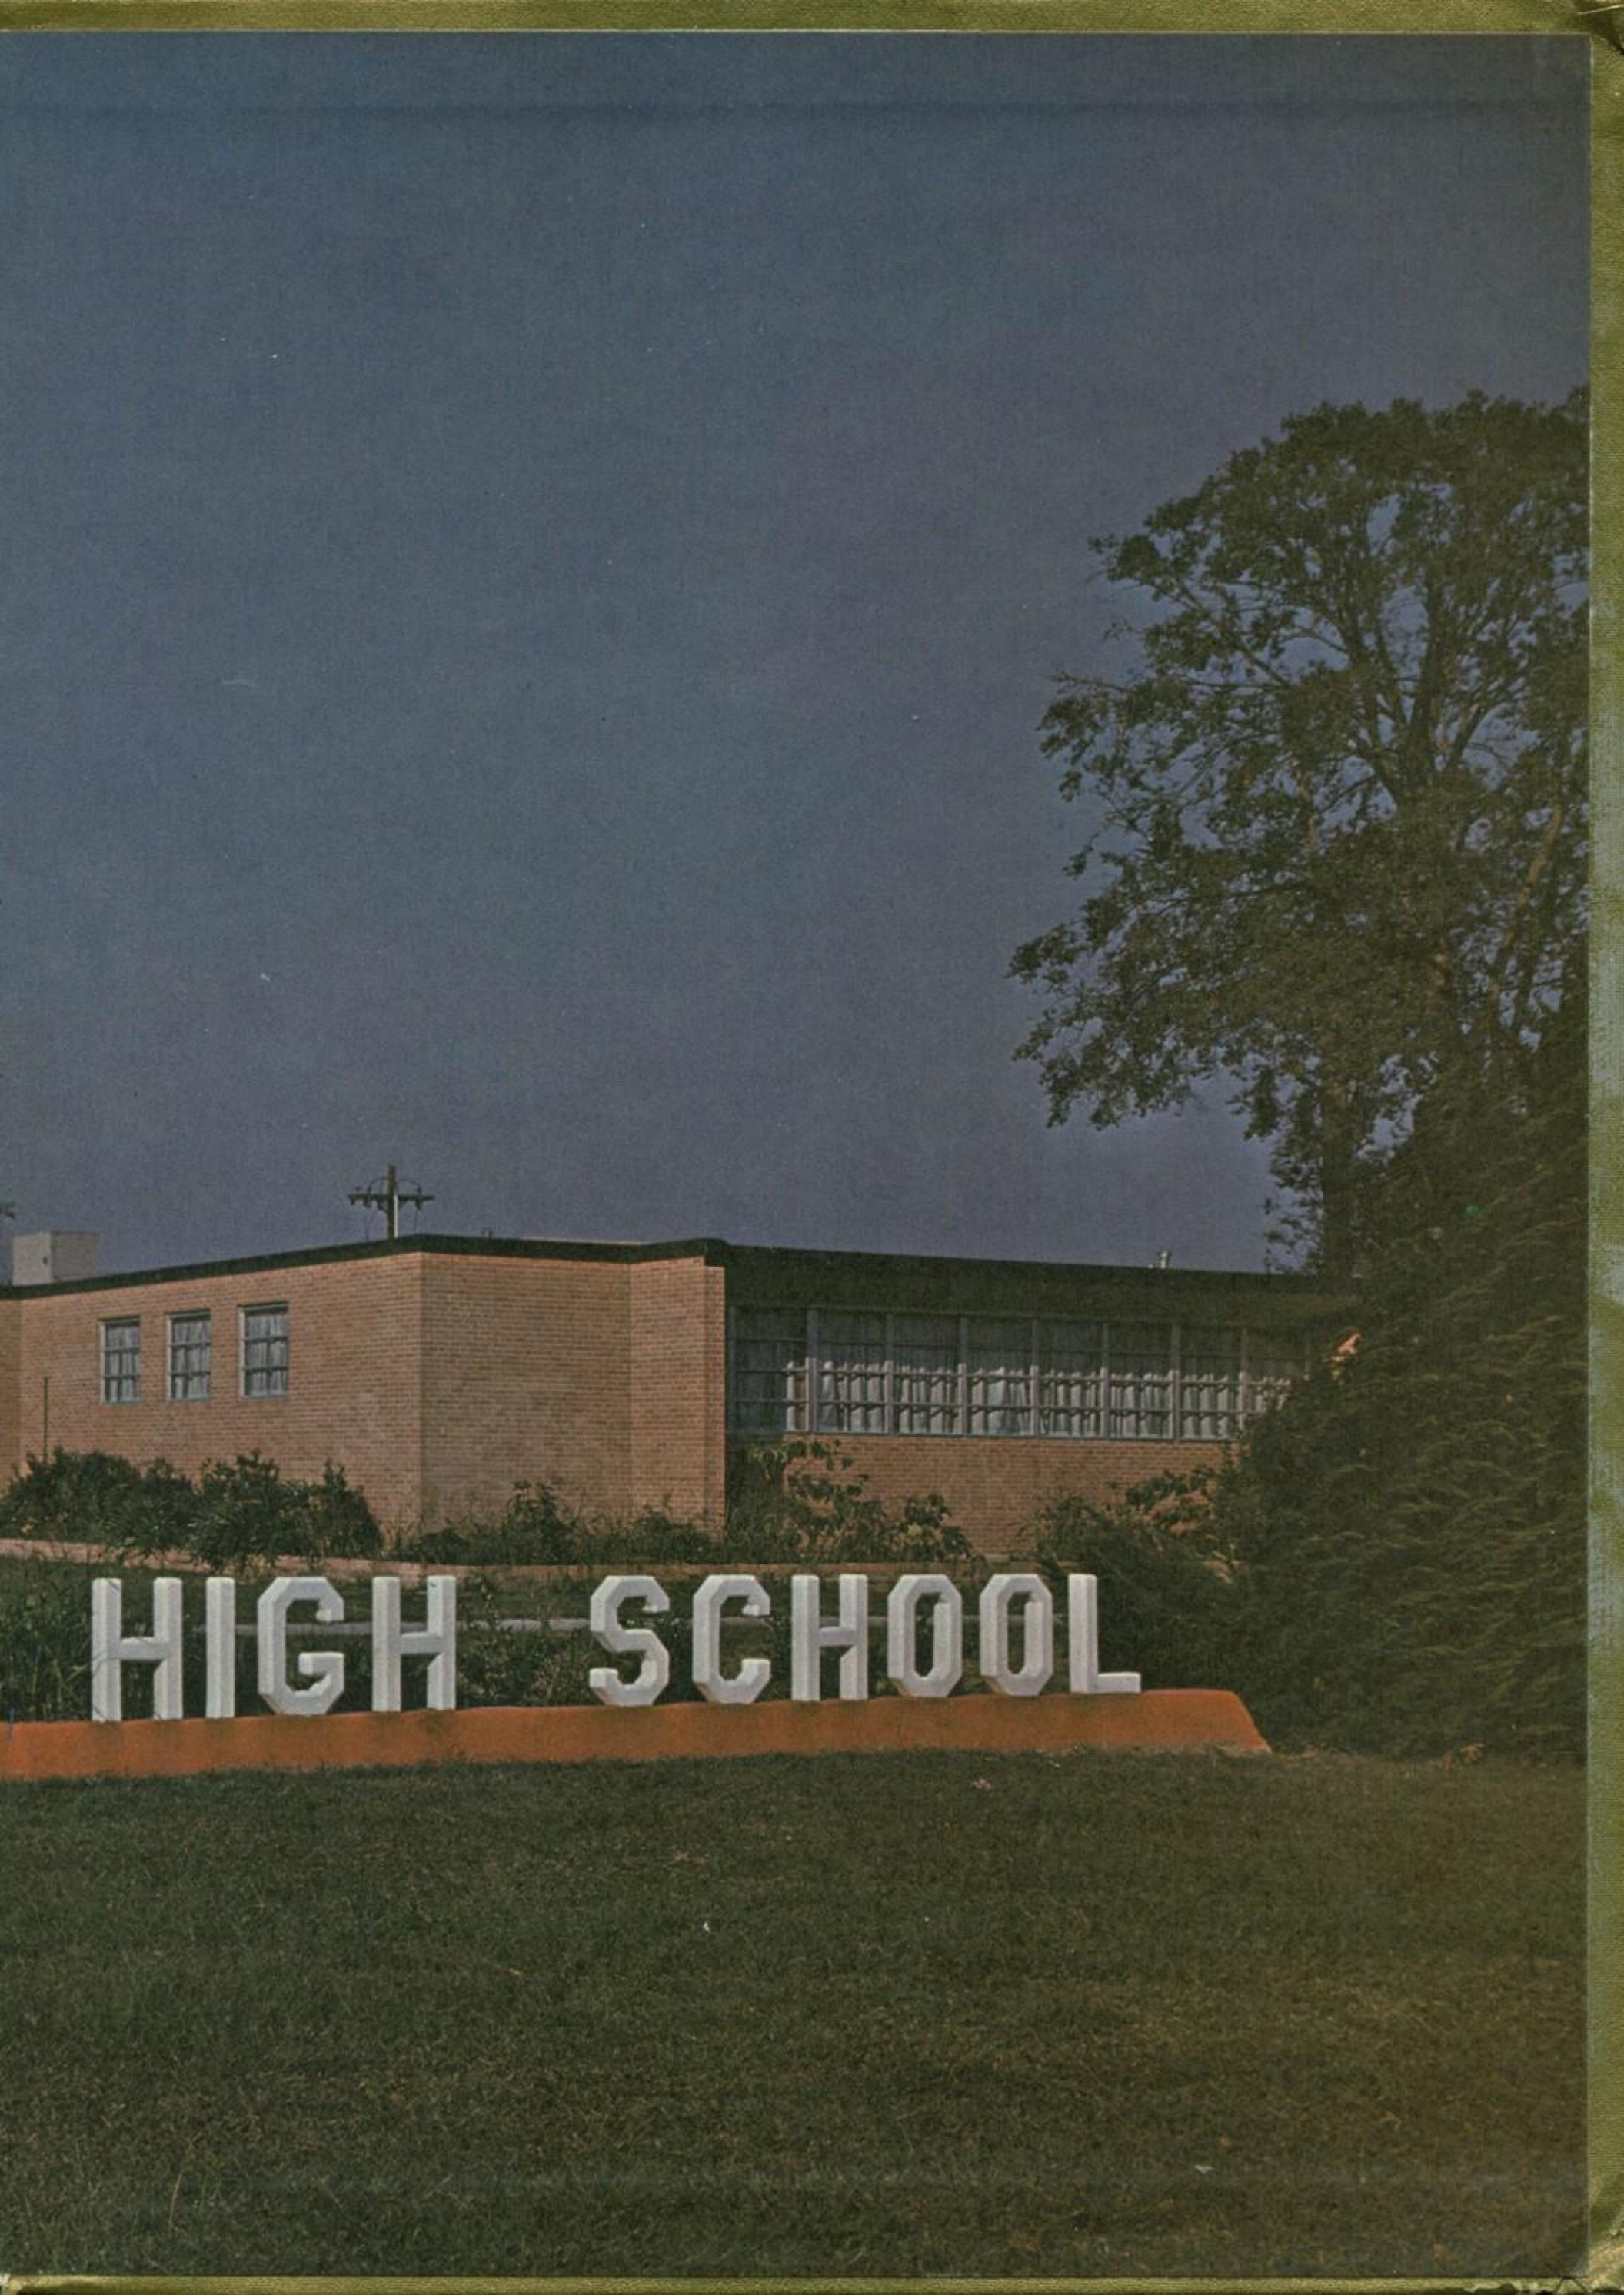

The hallways are deserted as our graduates prepare to step from the past into a new and challenging world. The members of The Bruin staff hope that this book will, in some way, help them to recall the memories of Catholic High.
